

BALLOT REFORM.

The Ballot Reform Bill, that from habit is called the Australian ballot, still lingers in a Committee of the Assembly. It is certain that a large majority of the people of the State demand the measure, and the Republicans having a majority and being pledged by State platform, which is endorsed by their county platforms, to enact such a law, a failure will be not simply a breach of faith it will be gross treachery, and will end all claim to recognition for honorable dealing. The members under the bill, but strong influence re-inforced by sophistical arguments, have been brought to bear to prevent the passage of any measure that will insure a free expression of the will of the people.

Those members who hesitate about keeping their party pledge, should bear in mind that nobody who has investigated the question opposes the Australian ballot system, but those who expect to force employees to vote against their convictions, or those who hope to profit by handling the sacks by which corrupt voters are persuaded to support unworthy or unpopular candidates.

In the early part of the session several Amendments were proposed making an Educational qualification for voters. All of these have been stricken out by the Joint Committee and a milk and water substitute presented. It is time that the premium upon ignorance should be withdrawn; and there are men in the Legislature who realize the cowardice of knuckling to the ignorant and prejudiced voters so fully, that it is probable that one of the original Amendments will yet be pushed through. The man who has been here long enough or is old enough to vote, and can't read, may be safely counted as a bad voter.

Nothing more strikingly shows that electricity has come to stay than the fact that at Jerusalem an electric plant is used in a large flour mill adjoining the supposed site of Calvary and close to the Damascus gate. Electric lights are also in use and they are said to astonish the Arabs and native Jews beyond measure. They keep at a respectable distance from the lights, and cannot at all understand how a lamp can be made to burn without oil. The Arabs think it an invention of "Satan."

The APPEAL proposes to print the names of the Legislators, who vote for and against the Ballot Reform Bill, (Australian ballot system) and in all probability the other papers of the State will do likewise, and thus hold up to the world those who bow to the will of the bosses as against the just demands of the rank and file.

A rich lady of Atchinson, Kan. recently made her will and in it she says that all her fortune is to be given to her husband at the end of five years, if he can prove that he has visited her grave ten times during that period.
